Ivan Hryhoriev

Front-end developer

Intro

My first website I made about seven years ago, when the frontend was not yet as hyped as it is now. Since then web development is my fascination and part time work.

Despite the fact that I studied law at university and worked as a judge's assistant for several years, this experience gave me valuable skills such as punctuality, meticulousness and stress tolerance.

Three years ago I moved to Warsaw and studied here networking and web development.

Currently, I take a frontend course from the RS School.
